" LIT KACE AO SEEN BY EX-MAYORS

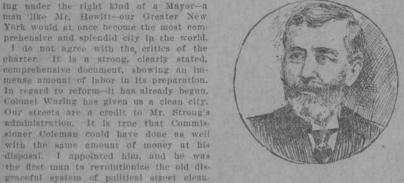

Five Former Executives of New York and Brookfun Discuss the Men and the Issues Involved in the First Greater City Campaign.

EDSON STRONGEY FAVORS HEWITT.

RANKLIN EDSON, ex-Mayor of New York-I am a Democrat, always have been a Democrat, and probably always shall be. The question of most importance in the coming campaign is to nominate the best Democrat for Mayor. Abram S. Hewitt would be an ideal candidate. A more able, broad-minded, honest man cannot be found. He is not too old to be the first Mayor of Greater New

It is vitally necessary that we elect a man who will appoint good men to office. For the first six months of the new administration the Mayor will have more power than was ever given a similar office in the world. It will be almost that of a king's. With the right kind of commissioners, Eacting under the right kind of a Mayor-a like Mr. Hewitt-our Greater New York would at once become the most com-prehensive and splendid city in the world. I do not agree with the critics of the charter. It is a strong, clearly stated, comprehensive document, showing an immense amount of labor in its preparation. In regard to reform—it has already begun, Colonel Waring has given us a clean city. Our streets are a credit to Mr. Strong's administration. It is true that Commis-

A remarkable change has come over the city within a few years. The masses become interested in municipal improvements. There is a suddenly awakened in the city's growth, its government and improvement. The time is past for ing the town on a political basis. Good health, good schools, clean streets, fine ments, and, above all, the encouragement and protection of business, are what needly need to be made to be a copied to be made. They will accept nothing less, one of the most needed reforms is a reorganized Police Department, and it is a criffint cannot be remedied too speedliv.

GRANT IS SURE A DEMOCRAT WILL WIN.

JUGH J. GRANT, ex-Mayor of New York-New York is naturally a Democratic city. It belongs by right to the Democratic party, and should again return to that party's control and resume its normal position of supremacy in politics. So far as I have been able to discern, there are none of the evils charged Tammany that have not appeared in this so-called reform administration. I see improvement whatever, notwithstanding the many promises that have been made; but on every hand there are many abuses to be remedied and evils to be suppressed. In regard to the coming Greater New York campaign, I think there can be no doubt that a Democratic Mayor will be elected by a handsome majority. And in view of the enlarged city, with its added territory, making it the most important metropolis on the globe, every true Democrnt and sincere friend of good government having the interests of the people alone at heart should make the effort of his life to win the city back to true Democracy. "What is your opinion of Mr. Croker's

"All fbat he has uttered has been clipped out for me, and I expect to read it over earefully just as soon as I get time. So at far me to say. Owing to the fact that my name has been prominently as a can didate for the Mayoralty, without my wish or sanction, it would open for me to speak as to party needs or what lines would be best to following Naw York from its present system of misgovernment.

SCHIEREN ANNOUNCES FOR COW.

HARLES A. SCHIEREN, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn-The coming Mayoralty election of the Greater New York is, in my mind, of the greatest importance, and it is necessary to elect a man to that office who has had experience and who understands monicipal affairs, for the reason that he will find, after the election and upon taking office, a sort of chaotic state of affairs which it will be necessary

o my mind, the best equipped man for that arducus position is Hon, Seth Low, and so far as I can judge from coming in contact with very many people of all classes, Mr. Low seems to be the most popular candidate presented. He is thoroughly acquainted with municipal affairs, having served the city of Brooklyn for four years, and his administration stands to-day as

In regard to the independent movement, I have the most implicit confidence that it will do a great deal of good toward both the nomination and election of ex-Mayor Low. Perhaps it is as well to say in this connection that, while I am a Republican and belong to the organization, I believe in party organization and recognize the fact that sometimes it is wise for the people to express their choice of candidates, and even go so far as to organize in order to have their party accept an especially good candidate, well equipped for

New York City still predominates as a business centre, other cities have a best endeavors to encroach upon the business interests of New York, and a mun in the Mayor's chair to have an ere upon the business interests of in order not alone to hold our own but to still further extend them.

STICK TO COCAL ISSUES, SAYS WHITNEY.

ANJEL D. WHITNEY, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn-While I desire that any statement coming from me should be looked upon as a personal one. I am at liberty to say that it is the result of close investigation among leading members of the Democratic party whose sentiments I voice. To begin with, I may say that, as a Demoerat I am hopeful that if the party should nominate a clean man, and lay aside the old political methods, we will be successful. The man to receive the nomination at the hands of the Democratic party must, in the first instance, be independent in charneter, and, in the second, he must be a first-class man,

I have been a Democrat all my life, and I say fearlessly that should the Chicago platform be introduced as an issue in the coming campaign for the election Mayor of Greater New York, the result will be disastrous to the Democratic party.

There is one thing morally certain, and that 14 2 7 8 is that, unless the entire vote of the party is polled at the coming election, we will suf-fer ignominious defeat. Let us hesitate for a moment. I succeeded Seth Low to the Mayoralty. He is an excellent man, and I enjoy a personal acquaintance with him. As a candidate for Mayor of Greater New York, I look upon him as a very strong op-noment. In fact, he is the strongest man they could nominate against us. In plain language, he is dangerous.

"In the face of all this how are we to defeat him, if such an achievement is possible? As matters stand now he will poll a very large Democratic vote. I asked how are we to defeat him, and my answer is to put up a man as good, or, if possible, better, as the Demourable candidate. If this is not done I am afraid that we will meet with signal defent.

again. "Fause for a moment and try to look over the vast patronage which the new yor will have. It is simply something stupendous. To place any but an upright, dependent man in charge of it would carry us on to ruin and misery. Let us not, refere, permit the introduction of any issues which we cannot sustain into the upsign, and we will triumphantly elect the first Mayor of the Greater New York."

CONGER SCORES HANNA Chitzens' Mutual Life

He Writes a Letter Objecting to the Senator's Re-election to the United

has created a profound sensation in political circles here.

The letter was written at Kirkersville, Mo., under date of August 21, to Judge C. R. Grant at Akron. Colonel Conger states that he will not vote for any member of the General Assembly who will vote for Hanna for the Senate, and will urge all his friends to take the same ground. He says he will return to Ohlo before the campaign is over and in a public way oppose the election of Mr. Hanna, He stincks President McKinley and all the leading Republicans of the State who belong to the Hanna faction.

The fact that Colonel Conger is a member of the staff of Governor Bushnell gives the letter additional interest. The Hanna Republicans here insist that the Governor shall demand that Colonel Conger either disays the assertions of the letter or return from his staff. This he will have to do in justice to Senator Hanna, who is his colleague in the campaign. The Governor is still in the White Mountains for his health, but is expected to return next week, when the Hanna Republicans will urge him to action.
